

SOLDIER SHOT; BULLET IN NECK

Dick Smith, Saloon Man, Is Held on $100 Bond; Tells of Burglaries.

Shot down when surprised in front of a cash register with a companion soldier Wednesday morning at 1 o'clock at the Tres Pintas saloon, 122 North Tenth street, Charles Harper, battery C, 13th field artillery, was taken to the police hospital for first aid and from there to the base hospital at Fort Bliss.

At the latter hospital it was said at noon Wednesday that though the bullet had entered Harper's neck at the back, and an operation would have to be performed, it was not believed the wound would prove fatal. Dick Smith, owner of the saloon, was placed under $100 bonds charged with assault to murder.

Smith Tells of Shooting.
According to the story Smith told the police the saloon had several times lately been visited at night by some one bent on burglary, and that Sunday night he had had a bed placed in the wine room and had slept there. Awakened suddenly Wednesday morning by the ringing of the cash register bell, he grabbed his .25 caliber pistol and a copping into the bar room where the lights had been left burning, saw two soldiers near the cash register, whom he ordered to throw up their hands. Instead, the soldiers made a dash for the door, and two shots rang out, one of them taking effect, as Harper stumbled through the door across the walk and fell into the gutter.

Smith telephoned the police and the officers found the wounded man lying at the curb where he had fallen. Entrance to the saloon was gained, it was said, by forcing a padlock on the front door.

U. S. FIJERS PASSING HERE WOULD LIKE THE GALT HAND

Sixty-three aviators arrive 10 p.m. Wednesday from Vancouver, Wash. What's doing? This laconic message signed "the boys" and wired from Yuma, Ariz., was received by mayor Charles Davis Wednesday morning. He said he would arrange, if possible, to have a delegation at the air base to give the flyers a reception as they pass through the city.

Washing Won't Rid Head Of Dandruff

"The only sure way to get rid of dandruff is to dissolve it, then destroy it entirely. To do this, get about four ounces of ordinary liquid arsenic; apply it at night when resting; use enough to moisten the scalp and rub it in gently with the finger tips.

Do this tonight, and by morning, most if not all of your dandruff will be gone, and three or four more applications will completely dissolve and entirely destroy every single skin and trace of it, no matter how much dandruff you may have.

You will find, too, that all itching and itching of the scalp will stop at once, and your hair will be fluffy, lustrous, glossy, silky and soft, and look as if a hundred times better. You can get liquid arsenic at any drug store, or write to the manufacturer, 516 to do the work—Adv.

PVT. GALLIGAN DIES AT BOWIE

First El Paso Boy to Expire in Texas Army Camp; Clerk for E. P. S. W.

El Paso's first soldier to die at Camp Bowie, Fort Worth, Texas, was Pvt. Thomas Harrington Galligan, of the supply company, First Texas infantry (141st infantry), son of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Galligan, 1020 Wyoming street, who expired in the base hospital there Tuesday, after an illness of several weeks, which was at one time said to have been diagnosed as diabetes. Young Galligan was expected to be discharged on account of sickness, when sudden complications brought him to his end. The body will be given a military funeral at Camp Bowie and shipped to El Paso, probably arriving here Friday. It may be that funeral will be held in Milwaukee, Wis.

Funeral Goes For Body.
Henry Galligan, father of the dead soldier, a passenger conductor on the El Paso and Southern railroad, resided at 1020 Wyoming street, N. E. corner of Fort Worth Tuesday night. Mrs. Galligan said Wednesday morning that she had not received word to go to Fort Worth and presumed the body would be brought here. Mr. and Mrs. Payne, 1412 Wyoming street, also received word from their son, Ralph C. Payne, in the supply company, of the death of young Galligan.

Preparing A Welcome For El Pasoans Coming Home With Commissions

Recommendations that a hearty welcome and a series of entertainments be provided for returning El Paso young men who had won commissions at Camp Stanley, Leon Springs, Texas, were made to the chamber of commerce Wednesday by the military committee, consisting of A. P. Cole, U. S. Stewart and Dr. H. S. Payne.

The first officers arriving are expected in El Paso this afternoon at 2 o'clock on train No. 8. There will be others, however, on trains arriving later, perhaps for a week. MEET CODY MEN IS THE SLOGAN

All El Paso Asked by Committee to Welcome Football Specials.

Business men of El Paso and citizens are being asked to meet at the union depot at 9:30 o'clock Thursday morning to welcome the 2000 football excursionists from Camp Cody, Deming. A monster welcome to the visitors from Deming is being planned by the committee headed by R. E. Orndorff and George H. LeBaron. The visitors will bring the 58th depot brigade band with them and it is probable that an impromptu parade, with entertaining features, may be arranged.

Cody's Men Are Ready.
A telegram received by The Herald from its correspondent at Camp Cody, L. Q. Taylor, at noon Wednesday, said that Maj. Palmer D. Sheldon, division athletic officer, announced everything ready for the departure of the great crowd of khaki-clad enthusiasts who will occupy the two special trains due to arrive here Thanksgiving morning. Among the excursionists will be a few generals and several colonels and company commanders who will, with their wives, occupy a part of one train. Several hundred Deming citizens will be on that train.

Football Promises Excitement.
Football is the magnet that is drawing the big fall crowd. In the high school bowl Thanksgiving afternoon the liveliest football games ever seen here will be witnessed by probably more than 10,000 persons. The El Paso-Roswell high school game will be started at 1:45 o'clock and the soldier teams from Camp Cody and Fort Bliss will kick off at 3 o'clock.

The special trains will carry the Deming and Cody visitors, back at 10:30 a.m.

Under St. Patrick's Protection.
After blessing the exterior the archbishop will bless the interior in the same way. First standing before the main altar he will pray that God will bless it, and he will place it under the special protection of St. Patrick.

WE THANK YOU!

NO Business Organization in El Paso has more cause for Thanks than ours. Less than two months ago we opened for business in our new location. In this short space of time we have become a big factor with the buying public both in El Paso and adjacent territory.

Faith in Overland Street as a shopping district and faith in the public is the foundation we built on.

Both are proving what we anticipated and even more

ONE of the noteworthy points about our store is its solid reliability. Hundreds of people have come here in response to our advertisements and found everything backed up by facts. Our high quality, our low prices, our full assortments, our endeavor to please are all facts—not theories.
